About Jeff Gonzalez:

Jeff Gonzalez is a combat veteran, small business owner, pastor, and community leader dedicated to addressing California's challenges and creating more opportunities, lower living costs, and improved quality of life. A first-generation American, Jeff achieved his dream of serving the country by enlisting in the United States Marine Corps after high school. His 20 years of service included combat tours in Iraq and Afghanistan and missions protecting U.S. embassies in Honduras and the Czech Republic. After retiring from the Marine Corps, Jeff became a local pastor, inspired by the loss of ten fellow Marines to suicide. He felt called to protect the vulnerable and serve his community. As a small business owner and father of a son with cerebral palsy, Jeff has navigated California's red tape and healthcare system, experiencing both its challenges and strengths. He is determined to increase access to healthcare, lower the cost of living, and address the state's broken systems. Jeff lives in Indio with his wife, Christine, and their four children: RJ, Lexi, Zack, and Mike.
